Seren Yr Wythnos – Star of the Week

 Willow	Polly – for using your imagination really well to create a superb ‘Whatever Next’ book. You tried very hard to stretch and sound out every word in the book too. Bendigedig Polly, I am really proud of you!
 Elm	Emily – for working hard in maths this week. You recognised all the 3D shapes and could talk about their properties in detail. Arddechog, Emily!!
 Cherry	Ivannah- For always having a great attitude towards your learning. You show great determination towards your challenges. You are a great model to your peers. Keep up the fantastic work! Da iawn Ivannah!
 Chestnut	Adam- For working very hard when sequencing the different space events! You are really enjoying this topic and it is lovely to see. Keep up the fantastic work Adam. I am proud of you!
 Pine	Sabina - Working brilliantly on your ‘Space Event’ timeline. It was lovely to see you applying your skills to independently use the table to put the dates into the correct order on a timeline. Da iawn Sabina!
 Hazel	Reuben - for your excellent work during all lessons this week. You have been making a huge effort with your handwriting and you were able to confidently recall the water cycle. Keep up the great work Reuben, da iawn!
 Maple	Emily - for always being kind and considerate to others. You always listen well and try your best with everything you do. Keep up the good work!
 Oak	Jack - Great independent work when showing your understanding about the water cycle process. You clearly enjoyed it, now let’s see more good independent learning.
 Rowan	Noah - Showing great enthusiasm in his learning about Space. He has produced some creative ideas in our English lessons as we practise the skills we need to write a poem. He has used personification, similes and metaphors confidently. I look forward to reading the poem he writes next week!
 Sycamore	Grace - for fantastic independent writing and enthusiasm when exploring difference sentence types in English. You have also given excellent answers and supported others when exploring Space in our project lessons. Keep this up as you have been an excellent role model to the other children in class.

Spruce

Oliver – for continuing to try your best in all your learning in class. You have made a huge effort on the presentation of your work and your overall concentration and as a result you have made huge improvements! I am very proud of you Oliver!

Ash

William – for trying hard in all areas of school life. Your concentration and work have improved tremendously this week as a result of your efforts.

Acer

Owen – for ALWAYS being so kind, caring and understanding of others. You are a real ambassador for the school and a role model to everyone around you. Well done you, we are super proud!

Poplar

Prosper for working so hard to improve his reading. Well done and keep up the good work!
